

Biography

Gina Scroggins

Gina Scroggins has served as the Director of SIG Turnaround Schools in the area of School Support/ School Improvement for the Oklahoma State Department of Education (OSDE) since May of 2011. Gina's responsibilities include overseeing and supporting the School Improvement Grant schools, the state's School Support Teams, schools/ districts in need of improvement and training for school/district personnel. Gina served as a Program Specialist in the OSDE Title I Office from July 2008 to May 2011. In that role, she had programmatic and fiscal responsibilities as well as monitoring oversight for districts funded from Title I-Part A, Title II-Part A, Title V and Title VI federal programs. She also served as a school support team member for schools in improvement and a presenter for local, state, and national conferences and meetings. Gina is currently pursuing a Master's degree in Educational Leadership at Southern Nazarene University. She earned her first Master's degree of Education in Reading from the University of Central Oklahoma in 2008 in addition to her Bachelor of Science in Education in 1996. She began her teaching career in 1997 at Western Heights Public Schools. She held other education positions including Reading Coach, Reading Specialist, District Professional Development Team member and District Curriculum Team member. She was awarded the Western Heights Teacher of the Year 2004, a commendation from the Western Heights School Board, and the Teacher of Today from the Masonic Fraternity of Oklahoma in 2004.