

Biography

Janet Filbin

Janet Filbin currently serves as the Director of Student Achievement for Hope Online Learning Academy Co-Op, a blended learning, multi-district charter network serving students from diverse academic, cultural, and language backgrounds. Janet has over 25 years of teaching and administrative experience in public schools and at the Colorado Department of Education. She has led numerous projects to support student achievement and school improvement efforts, including coordinating federal innovation and research grants, launching district-level balanced assessment and accountability systems, and collaborating in the development of Colorado's student assessment programs. She has been a teacher, a special education and gifted & talented program coordinator, and a director of assessment in Colorado districts. Janet received her Bachelor of Science degree in vocation, habitation, and special education from Metropolitan State College, her master's degree from the University of Colorado at Denver in special education and her doctorate degree in administrative leadership and policy development from the University of Denver. Her research interests are in assessment of student learning, teacher content knowledge and pedagogy, and teacher efficacy.